MOTION PICTURES

OF DURBAR ARRIVE

Gorgeous Indian Spectacle Films

Coming Here and Will Be Exhibited at Virginia Theater.

John J. Noonan, proprietor of the Virginia Theater, received a telegram last night from Gaiety's personal representative in New York that the best containing the film of the Indian Durbar, which has been delayed by storm, would dock last night, and that a special messenger will immediately be dispatched to Washington with the film. This assures their exhibition to-day at the Virginia, where they will be shown for the first time in America and will be on view for a week.

This is the first time that an Indian Durbar has ever been photographed in moving pictures, and may be described as the climax of moving picture enterprise. Two hundred princes, with their retinues, each vying with the rest in the gorgeousness of their display, transported on 1,000 elephants and camels with gold and jeweled trappings, are the main attraction of this event of barbaric splendor. The cost of the durbar is estimated at $5,000,000, and more than 100,000,000 of jewels were worn on this occasion.

COLONEL CANCELS

'BG ASTOR DANCE

Speculation Rife When New York Society Hears Yacht Trip Has Been Substituted.

New York, Jan. 12.—A lifting of eyebrows and whisperings of dark hints went the rounds of the Four Hundred to-day, when Col. John Jacob Astor canceled the great dinner dance with which he was to have launched his bride, who was Miss Madeline Furce, onto the top crest of society and announced that they would sail on January 26 on an extended trip up the Nile in Mr. Astor's yacht.

The dance was scheduled for January 26 and was to have been the premier event of the season.

Why was it canceled? and why have the Astors been taking little part in the social gayeties of the present season? The canceled circle has not extended the warmest kind of greeting to Mrs. Astor, and Mr. Astor is deliberately snubbing the chaste circle. This is one answer and the one accompanied by the lifting of eyebrows. The other answer is that Mrs. Astor's social duties have tired her out and she needs a rest. However, as it was pointed out by Mrs. Astor, social duties have not been particularly arduous, and besides she is a splendid dancer. At any rate, the great event has been called off and society is put in a state of confusion.

Mrs. Joseph E. Craig, of 138 New Hampshire avenue, will not receive to-day.

Misses Helen and Mary Hamilton, of Philadelphia, are the house guests of Mrs. Frances G. Turner at her home, in L street northwest.

The Confederate Memorial Home, at 122 Vermont avenue northwest, was filled with a merry throng last night at the reception to newly elected officers of Dixie Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy. The reception parlors, and dance hall of the home were tastefully decorated with palms, ferns, and cut flowers.

Those in the reception line included the officers of Dixie Chapter—Mrs. Howell-Smith, president; Mrs. Sallie Carson, first vice president; Miss Mary Yonimann, second vice president; Miss Eva Cannon, treasurer; Miss Margaret Daniels, recording secretary; Miss Lucy Morton, corresponding secretary; Miss Margaret Donally, registrar; Miss J. P. Knoch, historian; Mrs. E. M. Williams, custodian; Mrs. E. J. Swain, chaplain; and Miss Carrie Morton, chairman of the entertainment committee, and Mrs. C. D. Merwin, former president of the District Division of the Daughters.

Those of house included Senator and Mrs. Fletcher and daughter, Mrs. A. M. E. Johnson, Mrs. Jerome Lightfoot, Mrs. S. Sprigg Bent, Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries, Representative Blasen, of Mississippi; Mrs. E. J. Swain, chaplain, and Mrs. Belle Riley, president of the Robert E. Lee Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Following the reception, dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

PROBATION PLAN INDORSED.

Favorable Action Taken on Judge's Suggestion.

Favorable action regarding a plan suggested by Judge De Loach, of the Juvenile Court, under which members of the board are to take an interest in boys placed under probation, was taken by the executive committee of the Board of Trade at a meeting yesterday afternoon. Such a plan has been tried in Indianapolis, where business men have assisted in the supervision of the boys and improved their condition.

The executive committee referred to the board of directors a letter from C. C. Cleveland, of the Juvenile Court, in which he suggested that the Board of Trade get behind the movement for the creation of a new Emergency Hospital building.

The committee on law, to which has been referred the so-called "emergency" bill, introduced in the House, will be asked to report on the measure to the board of directors at its next meeting.

A request that the Board of Trade use its influence to have the crossing policemen placed on the same footing as the members of the regular force was referred to the committee on public order.

Five members of the Board of Trade were elected. They are: Maurice Fitzgerald, Dr. W. S. Wunder, Walter M. Brown, John H. Ergood, and L. D. Shaw.

MRS. FLORA SMITH DIED.

Prominent Georgetown Office at Services for Rectory's Wife.

J. McKeen, Rev. J. A. McKeen, Rev. J. M. McKee, and Rev. William Taylor Snyder, conducted the services.

The honorary pallbearers were Gen. John M. Wilson, U. S. A.; Gen. G. A. Woodard, U. S. A.; Gen. John A. Johnston, Chief Justice H. M. Gibson, Messrs. Theodore N. Noyes, John C. Davidson, J. C. Bell, and A. P. Crenshaw. The active pallbearers were Rev. C. H. H. Reese, Dr. C. W. Allen, Messrs. J. Clarence Allen, Medeson Crawford, J. Robert W. Hunter, and A. P. Crenshaw, Jr. Interment was in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Retail imports of fruit showed an increase of 100,000 bushels over the corresponding period of last year.

So Tired of Tired Feet! Use TIZ

Gets the "Tired" Out in a Few Minutes. Makes Your Feet Soft-Proof.

"O judge! It's awful how tired feet make you feel tired all over—so dead and so heavy, and then you get a corn, a blister, and a bunion, and a few blisters, and you're done!"

"Pull, Johnny, Pull!"

And your feet are terribly swollen, you don't care if you've got a million dollars—your feet are tired, that's all. A million dollars can't help you, any more than 100,000.

A quarter buys a box of TIZ—a tender for tired, sore, tender, chafed, blistered, and swollen feet, corns, calluses, and bunions, chilblains and frost-bites. The moment you use it, you give your feet relief, and then you smile. There's nothing as good as TIZ, so don't accept any attempted imitation. TIZ draws out all the poisonous conditions that make feet trouble.

TIZ is a box, sold everywhere, and your feet are terribly swollen, you don't care if you've got a million dollars—your feet are tired, that's all. A million dollars can't help you, any more than 100,000.

SISTER TO EXPOSE

WEALTHY DIVORCEE

Crank, Married Three Times, After Another Divorce—Sister Will Side with Present Wife.

New York, Jan. 12.—A sister who has turned against her brother to-day told the story in Perth Amboy, N. J., of a much-divorced and equally much-maligned millionaire, who has already had three wives and is preparing to take a fourth.

She is Miss Nellie Crank, who lives in the Jersey town, and she is getting ready to start for Omaha, where she will combat her brother's later ventures into the frequently tried sea of matrimony.

He is George P. Crank, a mining man, who used to be well known about New York. He is at present bringing suit against his latest wife, Cora L. Patterson, and the case is scheduled to be called on Monday. Miss Crank, the sister, will appear as a witness for the defendant, Mrs. Patterson-Crank, and will try to wind up her brother's multitudinous marriages—she says he is going to marry another unnamed woman as soon as he is free again.

His brother is secretary and treasurer of the Haven-White Coal Company, one of the richest concerns in Nebraska, said Miss Crank to-day. "He is fifty-two years old, but doesn't look it, and is extremely handsome. He has always been able to captivate women, but I think it is now about time he should stop."

According to Miss Crank, her brother's first marriage was with Miss Margaret Murphy, a pretty young girl whom he met in Philadelphia. He had lived with her only two years, but they were very happy. It was a matter of months before friends could bring about a reconciliation.

"But even after this he drank heavily and abused Margaret in other ways, and she died of a broken heart," said the sister.

Then, it appeared, Crank journeyed to Virginia, settled in Richmond, and became known as one of the "big game" sports of the town. He met Miss Lillian Weid, a daughter of a family which had extensive tobacco interests, and after a very brief courtship wedded her. They had three children and lived together for eighteen years. But then Crank brought a suit for divorce, and gained it at the cost of paying wife No. 2 $25,000 a week alimony. The sister declared to-day:

"George brought false charges against his wife, and because of his money was able to make them stand up when the trial was had. His former wife and the three children are now living in California. There should have been no divorce. Only his money got it for him."

Soon after the Virginia divorce was granted, the sister says, Crank went West. He got in with several mining companies, and before long was enabled to amass a fortune of $1,000,000.

"Then, three years ago," resumed the sister, "Mrs. Cora Patterson, the wife of a prominent citizen, obtained a divorce from her husband. Crank after she was free she married my brother."

"Last July I received a letter from him, in which he told me he was going to seek freedom from her. I immediately went to Omaha to pay him a visit. When he learned that I was investigating his past life he told me to go to it and return at once to Perth Amboy."

"I learned that he has been pretending that he was the innocent party all the way through his married career, and that if he is divorced his wife is going to marry still another woman. Besides, his present wife has written to me and asked me what I know about him."

"I am going West to appear against him, and let the court know just what his career has been."

Court records show that the sister's account of Crank's marriage in Virginia is accurate. Newspaper clippings show that Lillian Weid-Crank with her finger nails when she learned that Crank was paying the latter woman attention. Crank is a former exalted grand ruler of the Elks.
